Clinical & Interpretive

Clinical Information

Coagulation factor inhibitors arise in patients who are congenitally deficient in a specific factor in response to factor replacement therapy, or they can either occur spontaneously without known cause or in response to a variety of medical conditions, including the postpartum state, immunologic disorders, certain antibiotic therapies, and some malignancies, and in the older adult population.

Inhibitors of factor VIII coagulant activity are the most commonly occurring of the specific factor inhibitors.

Reference Values

Only orderable as a reflex. For more information see 10INE / Factor X Inhibitor Evaluation, Plasma.

An interpretive report will be provided.

Interpretation

When no significant abnormalities are detected, a simple descriptive interpretation is provided. When abnormal results
